

Our Name

Many people have asked us why we are called Green Ant...

Green is the colour of growth. We aim to support your people and your organisation in their growth and development.

A few facts about ants:

- * Ants can lift up to twenty times their own body weight
- * Ants communicate with each other to warn of danger and to lead each other to food
- * Ants have specific roles to perform such as caring for the young of the colony, carrying rubbish to the dump, tending fungi gardens for food
- * Ants will change their role if needs dictate
- * Ants have 250,000 brain cells and have brain function similar to the grey matter of human brains

Ants are powerful and intelligent creatures. We could see similarities in the way that ants work and the way that people in organisations can work when they are at their most effective - communicating, cooperating, sharing a sense of purpose and responding to change when necessary. We aim to support your people in working successfully together through simple yet powerful learning.
